

We help your patients live well with bladder cancer

Because we're patients and survivors ourselves, we can provide support to newly-diagnosed patients and survivors living with bladder cancer. Together, we can help your patients get the support they need. Look at all the ways we can help:

- Discuss the side-effects of treatments
- Provide emotional support and encouragement
- Educate patients about how bladder cancer can affect their lives
- Dispel "myths"

Volunteer support is available by phone, email or even in person. We offer a 24/7 online discussion forum, local support groups, downloadable guidebooks and more – all for free.
